OVERVIEW.

BLOOMS is a 33.5m (109.8ft) Mangusta 108 performance yacht constructed in composite to Bureau Veritas classification and to MCA standards, and delivered by Overmarine in 2006. Her exteriors are by the legendary Italian studio Stefano Righini and she has interiors by the yard's in-house team. She was most recently refitted in 2017.

Twin 2,774hp MTU diesel engines give her an exhilarating top speed of 32 knots and she cruises at 28 knots. Those speeds combined with a draft of 1.9m (6.2ft) make her perfect for exploring archipelagos like the Balearics, Croatia and Greece.

The speed expands her cruising range for any given time period and shallow draft opens up anchorages off-limits to yachts with deeper draft. The zero speed stabilisers fitted in 2021 ensure comfort at anchor.

There is a large jacuzzi on the main deck aft, which can be covered underway to create a large sunpad. Forward of that there is open-air dining with optional shade from a retractable awning and sofa seating either side of the entrance to the main saloon.

Her main saloon has sofas and armchairs and a large TV pops out of the cabinet that divides the saloon from the dining area forward, between the cabinet and the bridge. The roof is also retractable at the push of a button, turning the inside space into outside space with sunlight and fresh air.

The lower deck has a dual purpose room that has a corner sofa where guests can relax. A large drop-down screen turns the space into a cinema room and there is a bathroom with shower.

She welcomes six guests in three cabins, and can potentially accommodate 2 children in the convertible cinema room. The owner's suite is midships and full beam with the aft-facing double berth to port and a treadmill to starboard. The en suite has his-and-hers basins and a large shower room and has plenty of wardrobe space.

Two VIP double cabins also have abundant wardrobe space and en suites with large shower rooms. She also sleeps up to seven crew.

BLOOMS is ideally located in her home berth in Monaco and inspections can be arranged at short notice.
